DAVID FISHER.

Among the energetic, enterprising citizens of Heber is David Fisher. He was born in Scotland September 23 1852. He with his parents and their family came to Utah with the hand cart company in 1860. Three years later the family came to Heber, but on account of the Indian trouble they moved back to Salt Lake City the next year.

His father was killed by a landslide at Devil's Gate, in Weber canyon while working on the Union Pacific railroad in 1868.

From 1870 to 1873 he worked in the mines at Little Cottonwood and in the fall of 1873 he with his mother, brothers and sisters came to Heber and the next year he worked the farm of John McDonald on shares, and while doing so, persuaded the eldest daughter of his landlord, Miss Mary Ann McDonald, to share his lot with him and accept him as her share of the transaction. They were married October 19, 1874.

In January, 1875, he went to work for the Ontario Mining company at Park City, and for over twenty-two years was an employee of that company, leaving there in August, 1897. He was outside foreman at the mine the last ten years of his employment there.

During this time, the efforts of his estimable wife must not be forgotten. She went to the mine with him and Church. Two years later he emigrated to Salt Lake City, crossing the ocean and plains in the company of Captain Robert Campbell and lived with his family in Salt Lake City until December 25, 1854. He then lived with the family of Willard Richards, doing any kind of work he could find during the five years he resided in Salt Lake City. He worked for Brigham Young part of the time. He was appointed by the church authorities to look after the widows and orphans, as there were a great many at this time. He filled this calling well.

He was married to Catherine Campbell on October 10, 1859 and in March 1860 was sealed to her in the Endowment House at Salt Lake City by President Young.

He was advised to go to Provo Valley and obtain some land. He with his wife arrived in the valley in the spring of 1860 and immediately went to work building a home and preparing the land to plant grain. He followed this vocation all his life. He also had a saw mill and shingle business. He did whatever he was called upon to do in civic or religious activities. At one time he was called to donate a wagon and team for the purpose of helping immigrants across the plains. The donation was promptly made. He was also a Sergeant in the Black Hawk War. He was chosen with eleven other men to go to Uintah and try to make peace with the Indians.

When Heber was divided into the East and West Wards, William was chosen as Bishop of the West Ward, July 1877, with John Crook and George T. Giles as counselors. He held that position for 18 years. He was also appointed Presiding Bishop over the wards of Wasatch Stake. He hauled sandstone to Park City mines and to Salt Lake City for use on their sidewalks. He and the Buys brothers and Alexander Fortie staked off the grounds for the Wasatch Stake House. They did most of the surveying in the valley at that time. He brought the first organ to Heber City. He married Mary Loury Montgomery, October 10, 1867, the ceremony was performed by Heber C. Kimball. To them were born 14 children, seven boys and seven girls: Robert, Nephi, Catherine Harwood, Mary Jane Orr, Agnes Turner Fields Jones, Joseph Smith, Margaret, twins, William and Willometta, Major, Orson Pratt, Nellie Clara Williams and June Nora Browning. A son died in infancy.

Mary Loury Montgomery was born June 1, 1851, at Anock Lodge in Ayrshire, Scotland, a daughter of Robert Montgomery and Mary Loury Montgomery. She came to Utah in 1862. She was a very pleasant, happy girl, always willing to help anyone in need. She was a Relief Society member and served as a counselor and teacher in the West Ward for many years. The last few years of her life were spent in Center Creek where she served as counselor in the Relief Society several years. She died at her home in Center Creek on December 23, 1902.
